GERMANY'S INSULAR POSSESSIONS OCCUPIED

ISLANDS IN PACIFIC SEIZED BY JAPS FOR STRATEGIC PURPOSE

A dispatch from Washington, Oct. 7, quoted the Japanese embassy as saying that the seizure of the island of Yap was only one development in the general plan agreed upon by the British and the Japanese to seize all of the German naval stations in the Pacific. This was regarded as necessary, it was explained, to terminate the activities of the German cruisers which have inflicted serious injury upon British commerce.

PRESIDENT ENDORSED BY BAR ASSOCIATION

President Wilson's response was that his strength rested in the confidence of the people. He pleaded for the "humanizing of the law" in this time of international crisis, not only as respect to international law but as to municipal law. His reference to himself as a lawyer, who had reformed, brought forth tumultuous applause. He said the world was now stirred to its depths, but that the best course for a nation to pursue was the disinterested party. He added that unsettled world conditions made a good time for freeing the law from the dry consideration of cold precedents and injecting into more of the viewpoint of justice for the ordinary man.

There is a growing body of literature on the effects of the Internet on the economy. A number of studies have found that the Internet has led to a significant increase in the number of transactions and the volume of trade. This is particularly true for small businesses, which have been able to reach a much larger market through the Internet. However, there is also some evidence that the Internet has led to a decrease in the number of transactions and the volume of trade. This is particularly true for large businesses, which have been able to reduce their costs through the Internet. The overall effect of the Internet on the economy is therefore uncertain.

Picking Up Money

Using these columns is pretty much like picking up money on the streets. Walking is small effort, you wear out a little less leather, the money you pick up is clear gain, if you can't find the owner.

So it is little effort to telephone your "want" to this paper, your carrier will collect the little cost—only 25 cents a word each insertion—and the little ad is altogether likely to get for you what you want.

At The Thalian

Tonight's bill at this popular theatre is one of variety. The first on the list is the pretty and versatile little actress, Mary Pickford, better known by her many friends as "Little Mary," in a charming drama called "A Normandy Romance." This is her first appearance on our screen but she will come often in the future. See her tonight sure.

"Out Of The Valley" is a Western drama from the pen of Warren Kerrigan, who won the World's prize in the popular contest. The story is alive with action and shows Kerrigan at his best. "A Dramatic Mistake," a screaming comedy.

A War-Proof Investment

Many kinds of bonds and securities have been affected by the European war and declined seriously in dividends and values.

There is fortunately one sort of investment that the general disarranged business conditions have not touched and that is a savings account in our bank. The principal is always adding to the value thereof.

Nothing in fact so much shows the wisdom of having a savings account as a war. It provides for the unforeseen that such contingencies bring, it gives you something to fall back on, an anchor in time of stress.

There is no more opportune time to start a savings account than right now. If you can make up your mind to put aside something regularly under present conditions, you can put aside more when world wide conditions get back to normal.

We'll start you with as little as a dollar and compound interest thereon three times a year.

Stop the Thing that Causes It and the Cough will Stop Itself

A cough is really one of our best friends. It warns us that there is inflammation or obstruction in a dangerous place. Therefore, when you get a bad cough don't proceed to smother it with a lot of drugs that merely "stop" the cough temporarily by deadening the throat nerves. Treat the cause—head the inflamed membranes. There is a home-made remedy that acts right at the cause and will make an obstinate cough vanish more quickly than you ever thought possible.

Put 2½ ounces of Piney (50 cents worth) in a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you a full pint of the most pleasant and effective cough remedy you ever used, at a cost of only 54 cents. No better to prepare. Full directions with Piney.

It heals the inflamed membranes so gently and promptly that you wonder how it does it. Also loosens dry, hoarse or tight cough and stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Piney is a highly concentrated compound of Surax, pine extract, rich in quinine, and is famous the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "The Cure of Piney," and don't accept any other name. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Piney Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

A pretty scene at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Siler on Rhodes avenue, New Boston, was the wedding of Miss Clara Lutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lutz, of near Harrisonville, and Mr. Frank Averline, one of Soloto county's most promising young men. The large rooms were exquisitely decorated in beautiful dahlia and chrysanthemum, the archway between the living room and dining room being transformed into a bower of roses and ferns, under which the bride couple stood and uttered the vows which joined them together for life.

Promptly at 5:30 o'clock, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Mr. Walter Siler, brother-in-law of the bride, the bridal party entered the parlor. First came the officiating minister, Rev. Hamilton, pastor of the Christian church, followed by Mr. Elmer Moritz and Mr. C. J. Harris. Next came the maid and matron of honor, Miss Zenith Ach and Miss Elmer Moritz, herself a recent bride. Last came the bride leaning on the arm of her great uncle, Mr. George Lutz, whose snowy white hair and suddenly beaming face in beautiful contrast to the little bride's dainty pink and white blonde loveliness.

As the strains of the wedding march died away, the minister using the short ring service of the Christian church, pronounced them man and wife. The bride, a beautiful girl at all times, was unusually attractive in her gown of delicate blue tulle, her only ornaments, a couple of jeweled pins which held her heavy blonde hair in place.

After the ceremony the bridal party was seated at the table by Mr. Will Albertson, during which time the sweet strains of the violin played by Mr. Will Albertson, accompanied the piano by his daughter, Miss Orlena, made the scene still more enchanting. The elegant three-course dinner was served by Mrs. Carl Farmer, assisted by several of Miss Lutz's friends. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Lutz, father and mother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Moore, step-father and mother of the groom; Mr. Geo. Lutz, grandfather of the bride; Mrs. Lucy Albertson, aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Harris; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Daily; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Farmer; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bickert; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Moritz; (formerly Miss Louise Seiler); Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bickert, of Portsmouth; Mr. and Mrs. Will Albertson, of Kentucky; Miss Zenith Ach, Miss Olive Stephens, Miss Ina Harris, Miss Margaret and Dolores Hill, Miss Orlena Albertson, Misses Nellie and Maud Lutz, Mr. Frank Lutz, Mr. Walter Harris, Mr. Junior Bickert.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents, in china, cutglass and silver. The happy couple will be at home to their many friends after November 1.

Miss Daisy Grifley was surprised by a number of her friends at her home on Thirteenth street, Saturday evening. The evening was spent playing various games. Those present were: Mr. Geo. Graham, Ella Swenson, Pearl Belscher, Marie Arthur, Michel Brown, Frances Adkins, Gladys Fish, Pearl White, Esther Swanson, Messrs. Barker, Cusack, Walter Fry, Pastor Jackson, Clara Guilkey, Edward Martin, Pete Yeager, James Hendrick, Parker Bickey, Grant Hall and Harry Delaney. Miss Grifley received many beautiful gifts, among which was an opal ring.

Mrs. V. S. Garrison, of 1533 Fourth street, received a letter of introduction for her cozy new Monday home from her daughter, Miss Emma. The evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner, and the guests and hosts were served by the bride-to-be, who will take place on the wedding of Miss Blackburn and Mr. Donald Macneil will take place on the evening of Oct. 27, 1914, at the home of the bride's parents, on College avenue.

SAYS PRESENT FIGHT WAS FORCED ON THE DRY FORCES

That the prohibition forces introduced a state-wide prohibition amendment to the voters of Ohio next year, but were compelled by the liquor interests to put it forward one year in advance, was the statement of E. C. Dinwiddie at the dry tent Monday night.

He charged the present campaign to be friends of the liquor traffic, and that they tried to fool the people of Ohio by a so-called "Prohibition" amendment, which he declared, had found out by the "Brewer" Association, and were prepared to fight an avalanche of votes against it. Even the brewers realized it, added, that the Home Rule amendment had no more chance of passing than the proverbial snowball.

Mr. Dinwiddie, who is legislative agent for the National Anti-Saloon League at Washington, and in touch with the movements of that organization, reviewed, for the benefit of his hearers, the progress of the temperance movement and legislative action for the past several years, adding up with the statistics of the people of Ohio were 100,000 in 1911, and 100,000 in 1912, and 100,000 in 1913, and 100,000 in 1914.

Large Men "Wake Up" Mr. Dinwiddie was evidently on the side of the prohibition forces, and he asserted, because the people had forced the issue, and yet were in for a fight on election day. They were on the vote on the liquor amendment of two years ago, and he said that the people of Ohio were just now waking up.

He said the apparent conversion of the forces to the side of prohibition, and asked why it was that the same interests were not in when it was a few years ago. He said that the liquor people of Ohio were starving, and that the liquor people of Ohio were starving.

Mr. Dinwiddie made the proper unit of power within the state, and the state government pays the large expense of the operation of the

Points To Russia
Russia was pictured as a land where prohibition laws had accomplished much for the happiness of the people. The speaker stated that the Russian people were happier, were better clothed, had more to eat, and were saving more money. Like statements were made concerning Germany, England, Norway and other countries.

If Ohio goes dry in November, Mr. Dinwiddie said that it meant the death of the legalized liquor traffic in the United States, and a dry country from coast to coast.

He showed that out of 2900 counties in the United States, 1800 of them were dry; 72 per cent of the entire area of the country was dry now, and 52 per cent of the entire population lived in that territory. He also showed that one-half of the people living in wet territory lived in 4 states, one-fourth of that population resided in 6 cities, while one-half of the saloons in the United States were located in 10 cities.

The best friend the liquor man has in the world is the man who is trying to drive him out of the business. He may not know it now, but he will know it later. We want them out of the liquor business so that they can go into a better business. Our fight is against the liquor traffic, and not against the men engaged in it," said Mr. Dinwiddie.

He ridiculed the argument that "Prohibition does not prohibit," claiming that if that were true, the liquor people would not be fighting it. If more liquor was being sold under dry conditions than before, the liquor people would favor prohibition, said he.

He said he could prove by Governor, U. S. Senators, Congressmen and leading citizens of Maine that prohibition had been a success in that state, despite statements to the contrary. He showed that in Maine the bank deposits were ten times as large as they were in Ohio. Like statements were made concerning Oklahoma and Kansas, two other dry states.

The wet forces voted his home county in this state, Clark, wet two years ago by 2,000 majority by importing that many illegal voters in the county in time to participate in the election. Conditions were much better under the dry regime, a statement which, he said, he could corroborate by the leading merchants and farmers of the county seat.

He answered the argument of the liquor forces that taxes would be increased by prohibition by saying one to the drug store, and get a that any man or woman with red-line package now. Quit suffering— it's so needless. Be sure you get Dr. James' Headache Powders—then the saloons out of existence. But there will be no disappointment.

He maintained that taxes were not increased. The cost of operation of thirteen out of the eighteen state institutions caused by drink was more than the taxes from liquor amounted to, not counting the court costs and other necessary expenditures not included in the cost of management, continued the speaker.

Taxes were reduced in dry states, Georgia reducing the tax rate 10 per cent last year. Other states were doing likewise, according to the speaker.

In conclusion, Mr. Dinwiddie argued for the prohibition amendment on the ground that the demand at this time was for sober men, men with clear brains and steady nerves, and that the voters of today owed it to their children to make it possible for them to grow up away from the influence of the open saloon.

Mr. Dinwiddie is an old Ohioan, being a native of Springfield. For the past several years he has been located at Washington as legislative agent for the Anti-Saloon League. He is the man who before leaving Washington last week, gave out an interview in which he said that the dry voters in Ohio would support Willis this fall for Governor. Mr. Dinwiddie is looked to speak again at the tent Tuesday evening.

Prior to his speech the Filgrin Chapter of the I. O. O. F. sang a number of temperance and prohibition songs, which were liberally cheered. Mr. Dinwiddie was introduced by W. D. Gilbreath, the chairman of the meeting.

BRITISH HOPE CENTERS IN KITCHENER, THE FOX

Fresh from the terrible war scenes of Europe, C. W. Clark, a well known traveling salesman, of Boston, Mass., was in Portsmouth yesterday, calling on the local shoe manufacturers. Mr. Clark was in Germany up until September and relates interesting stories of the mobilization of troops, of battles, and how the news of victories and checks were received in Germany.

Mr. Clark also says that in England there is a feeling that the year will be over by the first of the year, and that of course England feels she will win. The English, he says, are pinning their faith in the successful outcome of the war on Lord Kitchener, whom they regard as a regular "fox."

"England is just getting ready to fight is the way they regard the situation," Lord Kitchener has placed just enough troops on the front line to keep the Germans busy. They are putting up a stubborn defense, and are being pushed here and there, or are advancing of their own accord, always keeping the Germans fighting.

Yaller Thinks He's "Some Good Man"

"Yaller" Lotell, in an "exhilarated" mood, ushered himself into the presence of the mayor Tuesday. He wanted to know if he was not a good man. "Most assuredly," said the mayor, "Yaller" then related that John Timmons was constantly boasting that he did not have to serve out his time on the city work as he had. He was getting tired of hearing it. The mayor agreed with him that Timmons had been talking indiscreetly and will call him on the carpet.

A Sads Blower

Thurman Colson, who claimed to be a glass blower from Sandusky, failed to impress the court with his hard luck tale, the mayor believing his chief qualification to be blowing the snuff off smokers. Colson had been picked up for begging on the streets. The mayor fined him $5, ordering him to report to report to James Foley, assistant service director, who said was in need of such good men to keep the streets and alleys clean.

Van Castle, who was charged with intoxication, forfeited a $5 cash bond.

On The Work Gang

H. Evans, F. Nixon and W. Johnson, negroes, who arrived on a freight train from Columbus, only to start begging in the vicinity of Flood and Blake's drug store, were also assigned to the Foley work gang for a few days.

Dad and Son Out Up

The case of Homer Holliday and son Harry Holliday was continued until Wednesday, the former failing to appear on account of illness.

Mrs. Myrtle Gibbs, wife of Albert Gibbs, a grocer and huckster, filed charges of disorderly conduct against the Hollidays, planning that they had threatened to kill her late Monday night.

Holliday and his son are said to have been drinking and stopped at the Gibbs' home on Front street and caused a big uproar while on the way to their family home above the upper ferry landing.

Explain Yourself, Roy

Miss Helen Smith filed an affidavit in the mayor's court charging Roy Redley with the theft of her bracelet of the value of $5. Redley lives just east of Sciotoville and will be asked to appear in court.

City Plans For Better Sidewalks

With a view to facilitating the laying of sidewalks in such sections that are lacking in this respect city council intends to have the engineering department check up such pieces of property and make estimates for improving them.

As soon as weather conditions permit in the season following the city will lay the walks and assess the cost against the property owners. The mayor has issued a statement calling attention to the fact that property owners will be installing walks themselves save the cost of issuing bonds, advertising and other incidentals and by having the work done themselves it will be much cheaper.

The chief complaint says the mayor is over the absence of walks in the region of the industrial plants in the east end of the city and in the zone of Gallia, Eleventh, Twelfth and North Waller streets.

Dispensing with the services of the village engineer, Sam Harper, and approval of the contract for the laying of cement sidewalks, constituted the main business of the New Boston council at their regular meeting Monday evening.

Frank Wolfe was the only member absent. Solicitor Will Meyer and Street Commissioner A. J. Carter were also present. Engineer Harper was not present.

Bills amounting to $110.04 were allowed as read and ordered placed on file.

Mayor Davis reported that he had asked the Portsmouth Steel Plant company to take out a building permit but they had refused on the stand that the village ordinance dealing with building permits was not valid in so far that it charged people for erecting a house or building when they do not use any part of a village street or any public highway. The majority of council referred the matter to the solicitor for report next meeting.

On motion of Member Frank Taylor, the committee on lights was instructed to notify the officials of the United Fuel and Gas company that some action was expected on the laying of a gas main on Columbia avenue for which five residents have signed to use. Mayor J. S. Davis was also instructed to call on the main officials of the company at Ironton, Tuesday.

The condition of Harrisonville pike, one of the main entries to the city, was given serious thought and being nearly two feet deep in places after every little rain. All chances of paving the thoroughfare this winter have gone glimmering, and council talked temporary relief.

On motion of Mr. Harr, seconded by Taylor, the street committee was instructed to meet with the county commissioners in order to see if they would not defray the expense of putting ashes, lime, stone or slag on the road for the winter.

Solicitor Meyer's report contained one ordinance providing for the depositary of public moneys coming into the hands of the village treasurer and the method by which such a deposit should be made. Contracts can be made with any banks in the county and not any in the state as heretofore. The deposit shall be for three years, first deposit to be made December 1, 1914. The finance committee shall have the authority to determine the sufficiency of security offered.

Member Taylor who had his talking clothes on, took the forward step in cutting off Village Engineer Sam Harper's head. He could not see where the village was gaining anything by paying done with the mud on the street crossings along Harrisonville pike but council decided that the county commissioners would take care of that when they repaired the pike. The street commissioner was instructed to see that the crossings in the lower end of the village were kept free from mud.

William Fremont, cement contractor, had the only contract for the laying of the village sidewalks in front of the lots of Mrs. Steagall, Mrs. Nancy Elhoff, Walter Neal and Louis Schomburg. The above property owners failed within fifteen days to take steps for the laying of their walks, they returning their notices to lay walks at the last meeting of council. The engineer's estimate of the work was $217.68. Fremont's bid was 10 cents per foot for three of the walks and 12 cents for the other.

Taylor wanted the opinion of council on the city's plan of supplying the residents along Gallia pike with water which was to be direct from the city's main. This would kill Taylor's plan of laying a village main in the alley and supplying the residents of Gallia pike and Rhoads avenue. Council passed up the matter until the next meeting.

Want Sidewalk Cleared

The mayor has asked the trustees of the German Evangelical church to clear the Washington street sidewalk of the new parsonage.

Investigating Fires

Ed Donavan, deputy state fire marshal, accompanied by Fire Chief W. A. McQuat, made an inspection tour of the city Monday. They visited the Jacob junk plant and the Portsmouth Carpet Cleaning company's plant, the scenes of recent fires and also investigated a fire of unknown origin at 713 Tenth street.

Look AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS FEVERISH

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stom-ach sour, breath bad, has stomachache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the evil, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't worry sick children to take this harmless fruit laxative; they love its delicious taste and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

What Happened to the Cats?

Not four ago the U. S. Gov't. made some experiments to determine the poisonous qualities of caffeine (the drug in coffee).

Twenty-seven healthy cats were given an average dose of 5.45 grains of caffeine about as much of the drug as is contained in 2 cups of coffee.

What do you suppose happened?

The Cats all Died!

See Gov't. Bulletin No. 148, Bureau of Chemistry.

Of course they were only cats.

But there are plenty of people who dose themselves with enough caffeine every day to kill a cat and cripple a man, not at one blow, but by little flows, repeated daily.

Of course, you can't see a strong stomach, to stand all kinds of abuse, but most systems are not. And when a man or woman shows growing nervousness, or sleeplessness, or irritability, stomach trouble, or eye disturbance, it is time to get coffee and turn to a real food drink, Postum.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring back color, gloss and thickness with Grandma's recipe of Sage and Sulphur.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, is a trouble. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a bottle, at drug stores, known as "Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not stylish, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyl's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

Posse On Trail Of Kentucky Murderer

Miners enraged over the brutal murder committed Monday night at Freeburn mines at Freeburn, Ky., opposite Delorme, an N. & W. station in West Virginia, when Dan Daniels shot down and killed his foreman, Julius Wolford, have formed themselves into a man-hunt posse and are scouring the hills and mountains in vicinity of the crime in their desperate efforts to locate Daniels.

According to information received here Tuesday morning Wolford's tragic death came as a sequel to an argument over tools said to be owned by Daniels. Over one hundred miners are in the posse and they are being assisted by mountain bloodhounds, who will likely bring to bay the murderer of Foreman Wolford. After cutting the wires near the scene of the crime, Daniels crossed into West Virginia. The posse is no doubt in close pursuit and Daniels will soon be intercepted in his wild flight to escape the wrath of his irate pursuers. Wolford was very popular with his men, it is said, and they have been aroused by what they considered an unwarranted murder.

Word came from Delorme Tuesday morning that the mob had practically surrounded Daniels. The bloodhounds put on his trail were rushed to Freeburn from Matewan.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of J. I. Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for ten or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

J. I. Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with alkali, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. J. I. Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

If you have a pleasant, effervescent, little water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.
